

POKÉMOD

Study them
All!!!

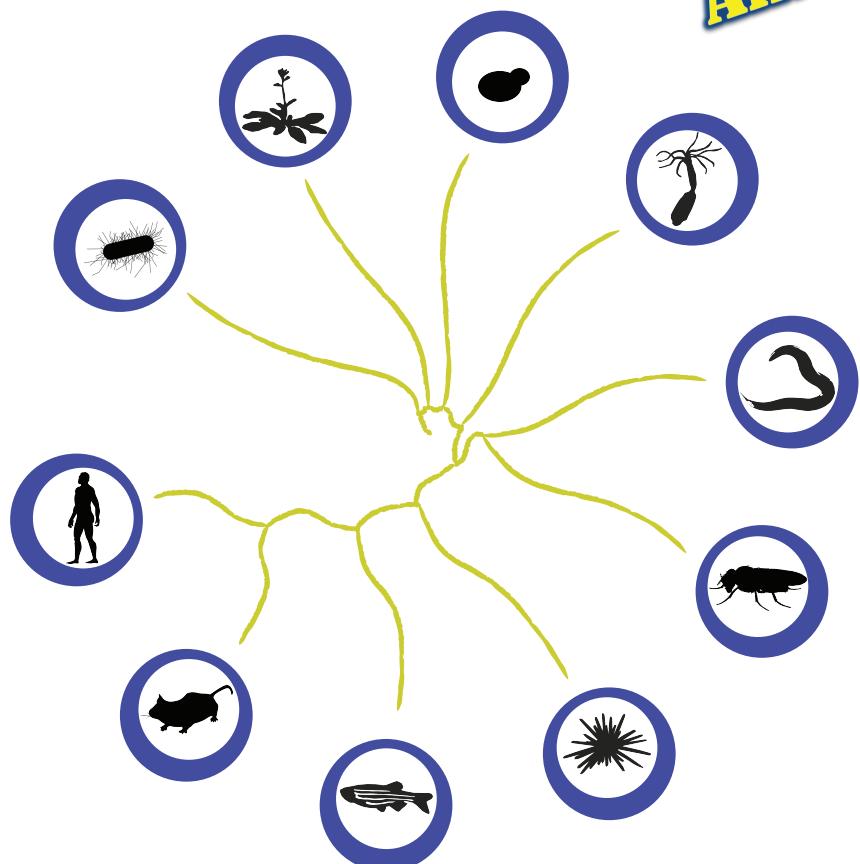

Model organisms are species that researchers study to understand the biological functions of life.

Each model organism is chosen for it's special characteristics that you will discover on each card!

POKÉMOD

Study them
All!!!

Model organisms are species that researchers study to understand the biological functions of life.

Each model organism is chosen for it's special characteristics that you will discover on each card!